OTHERS OF INTEREST

Dear Friends,

I write to let you know that the Decisions Operations and Technology Management (DOTM) area at the UCLA Anderson School is glad to announce its Global Supply Chain Blog presented in English, Chinese, and Spanish: blogs.anderson.ucla.edu/global-supply-chain

Each post can take one of the following formats:

- (a) An interview -- the author formulates questions about a current issue, and the interviewee provides commentary.
- (b) An insight -- the author provides insights concerning global supply chains, including current events.
- (c) An analytical piece -- the author analyzes a particular supply chain issue and formulates descriptive and/or prescriptive views.
